

Five things you need to know about Meadowmat low fertility soil

A decorative vertical bar on the left side of the page, consisting of a solid green line with several horizontal green rectangular blocks of varying widths attached to it at irregular intervals.

Wildflowers thrive in soil which is low in nutrients.

Most garden soil is naturally too rich for a successful wildflower meadow.

Our specially blended growing medium - Meadowmat Low Fertility Soil comes highly recommended for establishing wildflowers in gardens, parks, amenity areas and schools

Meadowmat Low Fertility Soil helps minimise competition from weeds and grasses,

It is tested to BS3882:2015 low fertility parameters.

It is supplied in 0.8m³ bags.

Each Bag will cover approximately 5m² to a depth of 150mm